STUDENTS' ENRICHMENT INITIATIVE

Jane Wei, James Sun, and David Fu have formed a program to teach children piano free of charge and organize public performances to showcase their growth.

It serves to establish a basis especially for children — who may not be able to afford regular music lessons but are dedicated and passionate about music — to pursue their musical interests while simultaneously offering young musicians in the community an opportunity to share their insight and knowledge and learn from the experience of teaching other children.

We are so happy to support this program at our studios!
